Inter-Avio: The Partner for CES Supply in Dubai, U.A.E.

Kaltenkirchen/Alphen aan den Rijn/Dubai, November 2008

Inter-Avio – a joint venture of Interturbine and Avio-Diepen for distributing spare parts in the Middle East – will start its operation in Dubai, United Arab Emirates, on 01 January 2009.

Inter-Avio supplies spare parts, factory new certified components, consumables, chemicals, composites, raw and semi-finished metal products and materials as well as standard hardware to aerospace manufacturers, maintenance centers, airlines and high-tech industries. Inter-Avio's sales office and warehouse are located in the Airbus building in the Dubai Airport Free Zone. Interturbine and Avio-Diepen strongly believe that in the growing aviation industry in the Middle East region Inter Avio can meet the increasing demand for high quality distribution services and supply chain management solutions.

"Inter-Avio is the right initiative in this strong emerging market and also gives us opportunities to use the strong network out of Dubai into the fast growing Indian market. The joint venture gives us the possibility to share resources and create synergies in order to improve the service to our customers", said Vincent van Campen, President of Avio-Diepen.

"Our new joint venture with Avio-Diepen in Dubai will serve the middle east customers with a unique service portfolio adding the total material support capability of both our two companies together. This way Inter-Avio is preparing a healthy growth of the total aviation market", said Burckhard Schneider, President and CEO of Interturbine Group of Companies.
